

Welcome to ASSISTOR-NPO

I feel that in our “Third World” NGOs are doing an important job. These NGOs face many challenges and also they have many needs, in particular assistance by skilled people to carry out various duties: teaching, office management, project management, raising fund...

Besides, it is important to put future actions into a consistent frame, and instead of going on “isolated”, it is adequate to set up an adequate structure so that others who are competent could possibly act for the better.

And it is in this stage that comes ASSISTOR-NPO.

We are a not-for-profit organization and, as a development assistance association, we seek to provide advice and expertise to not-for-profit sector especially in the “Third World”, to improve the contribution this sector can make to address challenges faced by local communities.

ASSISTOR-NPO is independent from political, religious or business interests and maintains its independence by completely funding and operating its programs with the practical and monetary contributions of volunteers and donors.

We believe that the non merchant sector is really in a position to support disadvantaged communities and their members in the process of achieving sustainable development, social justice and peace.

We also believe that a lot of success stories can be achieved through cooperation, dialogue, share of knowledge and experience beyond borders, races and nationalities.

We would miss no opportunity to assist our partners in their efforts to develop their potential and achieve their own goals.
